

ENTERPRISE MODERNIZATION EGL TRAINING JUMPSTART

Jumpstart Your Team Modernization with EGL Training

ClearBlade's one-week Enterprise Generation Language (EGL) Training Jumpstart allows your team to begin to code and deploy EGL, seeing immediate results for your Enterprise Modernization efforts. They will learn first-hand how to develop flexible and platform independent applications with IBM's new language for business development. Your human capital is your most valuable asset; let us help you extend that value.

- Introduction - Gain a working knowledge of the development workbench (RBD and Eclipse IDE), including EGL's simple and powerful debugging tools.
- Build web application - Build a small web application using EGL and JSF and watch how quickly your legacy developers can learn to code for the web.
- Program in EGL – Quickly code and debug production quality business applications.
- Database and file access - Leverage the EGL language abstractions to simplify and expedite developing complex, efficient database and external file access with EGL.
- Web services using EGL - Create, consume, deploy, test and use externally created Web Services and learn how EGL is used in a Service Oriented Architecture (SOA).
- Call external programs in another language (such as Java, COBOL, RPG and C++) from EGL.

Target Attendees

This training session is designed for application developers who have programmed in a 3rd or 4th generation language – and need to begin to build leading-edge business and web applications.

Recommended Training Pre-Requisites

It is preferred that attendees have some proficiency in the following areas:

- Basic knowledge of IS technologies, data processing, and has programmed for two or more years.
- Working knowledge of SQL.
- Basic awareness of IBM's Rational Business Developer and EGL – more information may be found at: <http://www.ibm.com/developerworks/rational/products/egl/egldoc.html>

Cost & Duration

The 5-day program is delivered on-site, and includes training materials for $12,000 + expenses.

Project Discount

If you decide to move forward with a project with ClearBlade, we will apply up to 25% of the cost of the training towards the new project.
